

Inner-City Filmmakers (ICF) was established in 1993 on the premise that EVERY CHILD deserves an opportunity for high quality education and access to career building jobs. We educate students and match them to jobs they aspire to, which allows them to reach their fullest potential and CHANGE their lives.

Today, we have over 460 graduates and we are growing. 95% of our graduates attend college. We are advocates for a diverse talent pool; successfully placing over 50% of our graduates in more than 600 behind-the-scenes film industry jobs where they are respected in the work force and rehired. As they build their careers, they have also become teaching assistants, mentors, job providers, Board members, and community role models. We are proud of every one of our students.

We greatly appreciate our instructors, guest speakers, field trip hosts, job providers and donors. We thank you all for YOUR ongoing support!

I was born in San Pedro Sula, Honduras. My parents moved to California in search of better living conditions. I am the oldest of four girls, and my parents sacrificed themselves to provide a better life for us. Seeing this good example, I focused on my education with the support of my parents and Inner-City Filmmakers. In my career, I'd like to make films that make a difference in the world and change lives. So many movies have had a great impact on me, and I want my films to be that influential someday. I want to make my parents and all my family in Honduras proud.

Being a part of Inner-City Filmmakers is one of the great blessings in my life. It was my transition into adult life. Thanks to Inner-City Filmmakers I learned artistic and business skills. I've worked as an ICF Office Associate, Back-to-School Coordinator, Summer Program Editorial TA and Team Captain. I've worked as a Postproduction PA on BABY MAMA, starring Tina Fey and Amy Poehler at Universal Studios; Production Office PA on TRON: Legacy at The Walt Disney Studios; and Postproduction PA on 2012 and PRIEST at Sony Pictures Studios. I'm currently working at Universal Studios, once again, as a Postproduction PA on LITTLE FOCKERS, starring Robert De Niro, Ben Stiller and Barbra Streisand.

"In ICF I learned that there is NO such thing as I can't."
